If you're looking to pop the question, it takes more than just guts and a diamond ring—it's all about location. Before you get down on bended knee, consider these five restaurants and hotels that come with swoon-worthy settings and service that goes the extra mile to make sure she says "yes."

Forbes Travel Guide Five-Star Addison is a solid bet for a classic proposal in an intimate, Old-World setting. While a number of engagements have taken place in the high-backed booths near the fireplaces, we recommend Table 99—a crescent-shaped table that faces the wine cellar. Addison will work with you to ensure the timing is perfect and the night memorable. In one case, the chef created a special menu just for the soon-to-be-engaged couple, ending the meal with the bride-to-be's favorite dessert. Most proposals at Addison happen during the dessert course, when a waiter will deliver the ring under a silver serving platter with a domed lid. After she accepts, the staff will send champagne to the table and welcome the couple into the kitchen to meet the chef.
